of a very special weekend ...

Women's Wellness Retreat!

To the many inspiring, hard working, time-poor, incredible and wonderful women I know!

I know you all work so so hard, and find it hard to find time to yourself (me too!), so imagine a whole weekend away to refresh, revitalise and relax (sound like heaven already???).

The fun starts when we leave Melbourne by mini bus late Friday afternoon (time TBC, but will be around 5pm), and travel to our amazing destination in Ballarat. Being a wellness weekend, we of course will be proclaiming the benefits of moderation, so we will maybe even let you have a glass of bubbly on the bus ... all in the name of moderation and balance of course!

Just look at where we're going ...

This amazing weekend, led by Tania Moloney (Corporate Wellness Guru), Sarah Loh (Chef Extraordinaire) and Sarina Lococo (Brilliant Nutritionist/Naturopath), is about having a great time, learning how to stay healthy despite your busy busy life, finding some quiet time to yourself, meeting some other fantastic women and taking some well deserved (and long overdue) time out for yourself!

Special Dietary Requirements or Medical Concerns/Conditions:

We're not advertising this weekend, so it's really invitation only. BUT, if you have someone you think really would love it and benefit from it, please pass this onto them. We know if you recommend them to come then they will be ok by us!

Please note: it is not for a weekend for supermodels and bootcamp fitness fanatics ... although we love them too ... everyone we've invited is a 'real' flesh and blood, wonderful woman who we think deserves a little time out and pampering!)
